

PRIVATE INTRO TO FLY FISHING WITH MARTY BARTHOLOMEW

Get hooked on fly fishing with this introductory private session for two with Marty Bartholomew, fly-fishing authority and author of the highly acclaimed Fly Fisher's Guide to Colorado and Tying Flies Like a Pro! Beginners interested in tackling the sport as well as intermediates looking to polish their skills will eagerly answer this casting call. Everyone will have a “reel” good time as Marty covers all the angles from the basic casting stroke and loop shape to a review of dryflies, nymphs, and streamer patterns.

- Spend the day learning from the Fly Fishing master and author, Marty Bartholomew, beginning with an early morning meeting to plan your day
- Fly fish on a wild, beautiful, private ranch that has access to all critical water conditions: pocket water, white water, flats, fast and slow runs, still water ponds and more
- Choose to focus on beginner casting, specific mechanics of your cast, hauling and/or double hauling, advanced casting, knot tying and more
- Includes a delicious lunch in the great outdoors and take home a complimentary, auto-graphed copy of The Fly Fisherman's Guide to Colorado

Your Gift Locations*

Denver, CO

Availability

April through October, 7 days a week

Duration

Full day (8 to 9 hours)

Essential Information

Minimum age is 12 years old, children under the age of 18 must be accompanied by an adult; no license is required

Numbers

Private experience for 2

*GIFTS ARE REGIONALLY BASED. PLEASE VISIT WWW.EXCITATIONS.COM/REDEEM FOR THE LATEST LOCATION LISTINGS • ED01-10-1605-A