

AMATEUR POLO GAME

Throw in! Mount your horse, grip your mallet, and prepare to do battle. Join your fellow athletes for a friendly game of polo on one of the only remaining fields in Los Angeles. With teams extreme streaking on horseback across a 10-acre field, smashing a little hard ball with mallets, and bumping each other as they go, polo is hardly civilized. A product of the Mongol invasions in Asia, it might be one of the world's first extreme sports!

- Meet at club to gear up and prepare for the match
- Play two chukkers (7 minutes of regulation play) on a professional playing field
- Use your skills to maneuver the ball and make your way to the goal
- Includes horse, tack and helmet
