

PRIVATE INTRO TO WINTER MOUNTAINEERING

It's time to climb! Get a thorough introduction to winter mountaineering on an all-day trek up Mt. Washington, New England's highest peak. A certified instructor will teach you essential skills including proper crampon technique, using an ice ax, and tackling angled snow and ice terrains. Learn weather-reading and winter navigation skills that can help you make smart decisions and safely climb in extreme conditions. Whether you are a beginner peak-bagger or a bonafide cold-weather alpinist, all levels are welcome to take part in this rigorous, challenging adventure.

- Meet at the gear shop in the morning for an equipment fitting and gear check
- Caravan to base camp with your instructor and fellow climbers for a full day of climbing
- Learn basic skills and techniques for tackling severe winter terrains
- Put what you learn to the test, working with your team to reach the summit
- Enjoy the stunning winter views of the Appalachian Range every step of the way
- No previous experience is necessary
