

PALEONTOLOGIST FOR A DAY

Can you dig? Discover the exciting world of paleontology on an exciting discovery trek for two. Travel comfortably by helicopter and Hummer through the remote, unspoiled scenery of the Mojave Desert to an ancient marine fossil bed. Then pull out a shovel and experience the thrill of digging for fossil trilobites. These hard-shelled prehistoric critters once roamed the sea floor and coral reefs searching for food. When finished for the day, relax and enjoy the comforts of your luxury vehicle as you head for your helicopter ride home.

- Depart Palm Springs via helicopter to a primitive part of the Mojave Desert
- Take a seat in a fully-equipped, all terrain Hummer for a short ride to dig site
- Explore the area with a seasoned guide to uncover 570 million year-old fossils
- Take a break from digging and enjoy a delicious gourmet lunch
- Return home in a Hummer with your fossils and exciting memories of a one-of-a-kind experience
