

WALKING PHOTO SAFARI

You'll be hunting on foot in a city neighborhood and armed with your own camera, as you focus on improving your photography skills during this safari with a professional photographer, whose specialty is architectural and landmark photography. Make tracks and put your camera skills to the challenge of interior photography without a flash, close-ups, and candid portraiture. Capture the ever changing scenery of the hunt.

- Photographers of any skill level, with any kind of camera, film or digital, are invited to tour
- Understand the options for outdoor portraits versus candid shots, and when to choose black and white film over color
- Collect tips on exterior and interior architectural photography
- Experience the city's unique neighborhoods, monuments, and gardens
